Report of Robotic Boot Camp – 26/05/2022

A two-day Boot Camp on Robotics was conducted by Tutodu Education Service Private Limited in collaboration with Novian Hub of Mar Augustinose College on 25th and 26th May 2022. The boot camp was conducted by experts from Tutodu and aimed to provide hands-on practical experience with Arduino Uno board to 13 students from different schools.

During the first session, the students were introduced to the various development boards of Arduino and were taught about the development environment of Arduino. They were also taught about the working of Arduino I/O pins and practiced small practicals like flashing LEDs. The second day of the boot camp provided an opportunity for the students to work on projects with the Arduino board and sensors provided to them.

The freebies included Arduino Blind Stick for detecting obstacles for blind people through a sensor, a Fire detection system, a Temperature measurement system for noticing room temperature, Ultrasonic glasses for the blind to detect obstacles, a Door Alarm system to identify if the door is open or closed, and a water alerting system to notice when the tank is filled with water.

Overall, the boot camp aimed to provide students with basic knowledge of working with Arduino, various Arduino development boards, programming environments, onboard features of Arduino Uno, I/O, PWM, and Arduino shields.

The principal, Dr. Joy Jacob, distributed certificates to all the students who successfully completed the boot camp.

Report of Q Bucket Launching 21/10/2022

On 21/10/2022, a meeting was held at the conference hall of the college, where the Principal of the college, Dr. Joy Jacob launched qbucket, a university question bank website. The meeting was attended by representatives from the College Students Council and IEDC Coordinators.

The meeting started at 1.20 pm with a silent prayer, after which Mr. Sarang P. Achari presented his innovative thoughts on the qbucket website. The College Students Council and IEDC Coordinators appreciated Mr. Achari's ideas and the efforts put into developing the website.

After the presentation, the Principal officially launched the qbucket website. The website is a comprehensive question bank for university students, where they can access a wide range of questions from different subjects, levels, and difficulty levels. The website also offers various tools and resources to help students prepare for exams, including mock tests, sample papers, and study materials.

The launch of the qbucket website is expected to benefit university students significantly, as it will provide them with a centralized platform to access all the essential study materials they need to prepare for their exams. The College Students Council and IEDC Coordinators expressed their gratitude to Mr. Achari and the Principal for their efforts in launching the website.

The meeting ended at 2.30 pm, and everyone left with a sense of optimism and enthusiasm for the qbucket website's future success.

Report of Innovative Idea – 28/02/20223

On 28/02/2023, the IEDC of Mar Augusthinose College, in association with the Electronics Association, conducted an innovative idea competition. The competition aimed to encourage and recognize students' creativity and innovation in the field of electronics.

A total of four students participated in the competition, and they presented their innovative ideas to the panel of judges. The judges evaluated the ideas based on their novelty, feasibility, and potential impact.

Mr. Anand .S, a sixth-semester B.Sc Electronics student, presented a groundbreaking idea that impressed the judges. His idea was awarded the first prize, recognizing his outstanding innovation skills.

Mr. Manu Mohanan, a second-semester M.Sc Electronics student, also presented an excellent idea, which was recognized with the second prize.

The competition showcased the students' innovative and creative ideas and the importance of promoting innovation in the field of electronics. The event was a huge success and served as a platform to encourage and inspire students to think outside the box and come up with new and innovative solutions to real-world problems.

The IEDC of Mar Augusthinose College and the Electronics Association expressed their gratitude to all the participants and the judges for their valuable contributions to the competition. The event ended on a positive note, with the hope of organizing more such competitions in the future to promote innovation and creativity among students.

Report of Intra Collegiate Hackathon – 03/03/2023

On March 3, 2023, the IEDC MAC Ramapuram conducted an intra-collegiate Hackathon Competition at Mar Augusthinose College Ramapuram. The event saw participation from 11 students from different departments. The principal of the college, Dr. Joy Jacob, facilitated the participants and provided them with the necessary support.

The objective of the competition was to encourage students to use their technical skills to develop innovative solutions to real-world problems. The competition was a success, and the judges declared the following winners:

First Prize: Mr. Christy Jose, M.Sc Electronics

Second Prize: Mr. Jobin K. James

Third Prize: Mr. Joseph Roji Joseph

The winners were awarded prizes by the principal, Dr. Joy Jacob, who appreciated their hard work and dedication. The competition not only provided a platform for students to showcase their skills but also encouraged them to think creatively and come up with out-of-the-box ideas.

To further encourage women's technical skill development, IEDC MAC also provided a skill-oriented project development scholarship to Mrs. Jeswin PK, a third-year B.Sc Electronics student. The scholarship is aimed at empowering and motivating women to pursue technical skills and contribute to the field.

Overall, the intra-collegiate Hackathon Competition was a great success, and the winners and participants are to be commended for their hard work and dedication. Such events play a crucial role in promoting technical skills and innovation among students, and it is hoped that more such events will be organized in the future.

Women Empowerment Scholarship – 03/03/2023

On March 3, 2023, IEDC MAC Ramapuram took an important step towards empowering and motivating women's technical skill development by providing a skill-oriented project development scholarship to Mrs. Jeswin PK, a third-year B.Sc Electronics student. This scholarship aims to provide financial support and encouragement to women students to pursue technical skills and contribute to the field.

The college principal, Dr. Joy Jacob, facilitated the participant and awarded the scholarship to Mrs. Jeswin P.K. Dr. Jacob applauded the efforts of the scholarship recipient and encouraged her to continue working hard towards her goals.

The meeting was held at the college premises and began at the scheduled time of 3 pm. The principal addressed the participants and highlighted the importance of empowering women through technical skill development. The principal then announced the scholarship award and congratulated Mrs. Jeswin PK for her achievement.

The meeting concluded at 3.20 pm with the participants expressing their gratitude towards the college management for their efforts in promoting women's technical skill development.

Overall, the scholarship award ceremony was a significant step towards empowering women in the technical field. It is hoped that such initiatives will continue in the future and help to create a more gender-inclusive and diverse technical community.
